ALMA

Ordinations. For the first time in the history of Alma College, whose first ordination class was that of June 1935, the third-year Oregonians will be ordained in the North. Bishop Charles D. White of Spokane will confer the priesthood on them Saturday, June 21, in St. Aloysius Church, Spokane. Their first Low Masses will be offered at Mount St. Michael's, June 22. The 15 Oregonians will receive the subdiaconate June 10 and diaconate June 11 at Menlo Park, together with the Californians, whose ordination is June 12.

Authorities. Dr. Yves R. Simon, of the University of Chicago's Committee on Social Studies, an internationally known Thomistic political philosopher, spoke here Mar. 14 on "The Six Functions of Authority." The chief function, he said, is the formal pursuit of the common good.

Fr. Giambastiani spoke Mar. 18 on the work of the Province Mission Band. He explained some of the detailed rules found in the NY Province Mission Manual, which is followed in California. During each mission, Father continued, a priest delivers at least 25 prepared sermons. Qualifications for the work he listed in this order: ability to work well with the pastors, willingness to work, speaking ability.

Sacred Heart. Fr. Eugene Murphy, National Director of the Sacred Heart Program, told the Theologians on Mar. 22 that "You mustn't underestimate the power of the religious radio." He related personal experiences and read letters showing that the Program, even when it comes on at 5:45 a.m., reaches a surprising number and variety of listeners in every stratum of society. "For instance," he said, "in the deepest South, in 'No-Priest Land,' we get our best response." One-fifth of the Program's listeners are non-Catholic.

Visitations. Fr. Provincial (J. O'Brien) made his visitation here Mar. 3-13, and spoke to the third- and fourth-year men, Mar. 12, on the Rules for Priests. Fr. Harold Small, Provincial of Oregon, began his visitation Mar. 22; Fr. Mark Gaffney, Socius, arrived on the 24th. Bishop Thomas Feeney, S.J., stopped here briefly in mid-March.

Activities. Mr. Poole (Ore.) secured the use of two cabins for the teaching of catechism at the Felipe Street center in San Jose. Till now the Mexican children have been taught there almost sub diu. New catechists who started Mar. 22 are Messrs. Stowe (Missouri), Brooks Costello (Ore.) and James Menard.

Eight Theologians sang for the Byzantine-Slav Liturgy offered by Fr. Ryder for the students of Santa Clara in the Mission Church, Mar. 12. Mr. Astruc directed, Fr. Sargent and Mr. T. Byrne were servers, Mr. Fox thurifer. Mr. Astruc also directed a small choir that sang in St. Joseph's Church, San Jose, at the Solemn High Mass of Mar. 19.

In the first-year disputation, Mar. 5, Mr. Minamiki defended in De Revelatione and Mr. Meany (Ore.) in De Ecclesia.

Fr. Gruenthaner, Professor of Scripture from St. Mary's, was feted at a villa-day gathering of Theologians at Fruitbowl cabin, Mar. 20. Fr. Perri and Mr. E. Toner (Ore.) were the cooks.

A Sacred Heart League center has been established among the Theologians, with Mr. J. Bradley (Ore.) as head and Fr. Hagemann as faculty advisor.

Writers. California Theologians had the following articles published recently: Mr. R. Ignatius Burns, "Aquinas, Medieval Historian," in The Historical Bulletin for January, together with Mr. Lester's "Historical Analysis of Modern Judaism;" Mr. Burns again, "The Jesuits and the Spokane Council of 1877," Pacific Historical Review for February; Fr. Mibach, "Open Letter to Self" in Review for Religious, January. Mr. DeRouen (Mo.) wrote in the Jesuit Missions for March "Revival in the Rockies," an account of Jesuit catechetical work near Fraser, Colorado.

AZUSA

Feb. Retreats. During February retreats were given by Frs. Whelan, Maher, Vaughan and Silva. One group in mid-February came from the Muroc Lake Testing grounds. Twenty-eight men started in various cars, but one car overturned, sending three prospective retreatants to the hospital. The fourth man in the car managed to reach Manresa. Feb. 2, Fr. Odou gave a week's mission at Henderson, Nevada. During that same week, Fr. Whelan gave an eight-day retreat to the Carmelite Sisters at Sacred Heart Retreat House in Alhambra. Feb. 22, Fr. Whelan gave a Day of Recollection at the Azusa Victoryknoll Convent for some 40 public school boys, and a week later a Day of Recollection for some 35 women at the Sacred Heart Retreat House in Alhambra. Fr. Whelan is also preaching a Lenten course on Tuesday nights at the Corona Navy Hospital. Thanks to the recruiting efforts of our contact man, Fr. Tom Sullivan, the groups have been growing, and on Feb. 29th we had the largest group ever assembled at Manresa, to wit: 35, which is an uncomfortable capacity.

New Chapel. The drive for a new chapel, headed by Fr. Sullivan, is making fast progress. We hope to break ground this year and see the chapel up by Christmas. During Lent, Fr. Vaughan is giving a "refresher" course in apologetics to a group of 30 alumnae of the various Sacred Heart colleges (RSCJ). The women meet each Wednesday morning in a private home in Pasadena. Feb. 26 Fr. Odou attended an organizational dinner at Las Vegas. The group, one of the best we have, will come in March for their annual Retreat.

BELLARMINE

State Winner. Jack Sheehy, sophomore, took first place in the Department of California American Legion Oratorical Contest held in Sacramento, Mar. 23. He won $200 in cash and a gold wrist watch. He now goes to the regional finals in Flagstaff, Arizona, April 15. Mr. Aziz is his coach.

Speakers. Mr. John McEnery, '26, a prominent businessman and politician in San Jose, gave a stirring address to the Mothers Guild about voting to exempt our Catholic schools from taxes. Fr. Corvi sent to all the parents bulletins about registering and voting. Fr. Earley addressed the students on "Catholic Book Day." This is his third appearance during Catholic Press Week in the last seven years. The Sodalists got special talks this month from Fr. Howard, Province Director, and from Fr. Eugene Murphy, Director of the Sacred Heart Radio Program.

For Vocation Week, Fr. McDermott arranged to have speakers from various professions and businesses, pamphlets were obtained from seminaries, novitiates and colleges, and Frs. Corvi and C. Leahy had special conferences with individual seniors about their plans for the future.

Fr. McDermott and the Scholastics gave the Novena of Grace talks in the chapel at noontime. The Chapel was crowded every day. Fr. Mara of Alma gave the sermons for the Mothers Guild day of recollection. Fr. Rector (T. Cosgrave) took care of the other exercises.

Stage. Mr. Powers is rehearsing musical numbers for the annual variety show in May. Tentatively the theme is "New Orleans." A Bellarmine graduate, John Brimhall, who majored in music at Loyola U of New Orleans, will allow the use of some of his original songs about the South. They are ready for publication and may be sung for the first time by Bellarmine singers.

At the Dramatic Arts Contest, Feb. 20, selections were given from "The Merchant of Venice," "Richard III," and "Cyrano de Bergerac." Messrs. Brewer, Costa and T. Byrne of Alma judged the elocution contest. "Arsenic and Old Lace" will be the spring play in April.

Science. Fr. Gruye erected a huge antenna for his amateur broadcasting and receiving station. Fr. John O'Neill is holding special evening classes in chemistry for a group of seniors.

Supply. During Lent Fr. Corvi is preaching on Wednesdays at St. Patrick's. Three Hours will be given by Fr. V. O'Sullivan in South San Francisco; Fr. Conway, Campbell; Fr. Flynn, St. Leo's; Fr. D. Walsh, Sacred Heart. Fr. Plushkell gave the Forty Hours sermons at St. Mary's and St. Clare's.

Varia. The St. Patrick's Dinner drew 150 dads and mothers. The Scholastics decorated the gym in green and gold for the occasion. The Sodality's Mission Committee is collecting sacrifice money for the China Missions. The Apostolic Committee teaches at three centers weekly. The swimming team won two meets with Livermore and the Olympic Club.

Fr. Weckbach is sick in the hospital with a bad cold and a run-down condition. Frs. Walsh and McDermott are taking his religion classes. The new infirmary and extra rooms, completely repaired and repainted, are in better condition than before the recent fire.

CHINA

Some notes from a letter sent by Fr. P. Shaules:

Taipeh, Formosa: ". . . there are about 800,000 people in this capitol city of Formosa and seat of the free government, including maybe 2 or 3 thousand Catholics. We are beginning with the University of Formosa, built by the Japanese years ago as the Imperial University, with fine accommodations for professors. At present it belongs to the Nationalist Government and has 3000 students, one-half of whom are refugees from the mainland. Over 100 are Catholics already.

"As full-time professors the four of us receive from the University a salary of $350 a month ($12 U.S.) plus the house, charcoal, peanut oil, and two pounds of rice each day. Fr. Murphy teaches English, Fr. Weingartner, German, Fr. Foley, sociology, and I have history. Our plans are to build up a spiritual and philosophical library here, and have an information center and reading room. As soon as we raise three or four hundred dollars we can build an excellent two-room building in front of the cloister, where students can stop in at all hours for reading and conferences. What we do need is Catholic books and pamphlets. The students read English, and like to read. The only practical way for articles to reach us is through Fr. Lipman in San Francisco, who will be able to forward them to us with much less expense and trouble to all concerned."

EL RETIRO

Addition. The new wing of eight rooms, each with private toilet and shower, and a chapel with five altars, an addition to the Prosser House on the hill, is now completed and in use. The main purpose of this wing is to provide space and facilities for retreats for priests. The priests' retreats are expected to get under way sometime in June or July.

Gifts. The ten stained-glass windows of the Rossi Memorial Chapel have all been donated, and all but two installed. The general motif of the windows running in sequence represents the Spiritual Exercises and are as follows: The Creation; Sin in its Effects; The Prodigal Son, or the Mercy of God; The Incarnation; The Kingship of Christ; The Hidden Life; The Public Life; The Condemnation of Christ; The Resurrection; St. Ignatius, Keeping Night Vigil at Montserrat.

A gift of a large wooden book with the inscription, "First Principle and Foundation," the work of a famous artist in Portland who also designed the wooden books of the stations of the Seven Sorrows in Portland, gives added color to the grotto scene in the patio of the garden.

Breakfast. Arrangements have been completed for the thirteenth annual Communion Breakfast of the Catholic Laymen's Retreat Association. The Mass will be celebrated by Archbishop Mitty at nine o'clock, Sunday, April 20, in St. Mary's Cathedral. Following the Mass, breakfast will be had at the Palace Hotel.

Bellarmine Prep seniors in two groups, with Frs. Gerald Flynn and Richard O'Rourke as directors respectively, made their retreats here in February. St. Ignatius High sent one contingent under Fr. O'Rourke. Other schools are to follow soon.

LOS GATOS

Bishop Thomas F. Feeney, S.J., who was recently consecrated for the Caroline-Marshall Islands, visited us on his way back from Boston to his diocese. He entertained the community with a hilarious account of life among the South Sea Islanders. He said Mass for us the next morning.

Fr. Silva gave a retreat to Santa Clara alumni at Azusa and a triduum to the Religious of the Sacred Heart at Menlo Park. Fr. Joseph Geary preached the Novena of Grace at St. Clare's. Various Fathers have been supplying at St. Bridget's in San Francisco.

Bro. Grosskopf pronounced the first vows of the Coadjutor Brother, Mar. 9.

LOYOLA HIGH

Archbishop. For the Dads-Sons Communion Breakfast, Mar. 23, Archbishop McIntyre was celebrant of the 8 o'clock Mass at Blessed Sacrament Church. After Mass the organization breakfasted at the Palladium. The Archbishop addressed them there and Chief of Police James Parker was guest speaker.

Contests. In the Army National ROTC Rifle Match competition for the William Randolph Hearst Trophies, Loyola's number one team placed first in the high school division, and the second team placed fourth. The school is still in the running for the national title.

One of our seniors was chosen as alternate for Congressman Yarity's appointment to Annapolis. All schools in the Congressman's district were invited to participate in the examinations.

Spiritual Talks. Seven Scholastics talked to the students during the Novena of Grace. They spoke after Mass and again during noon hour. During the week of March 9 Fr. Newport spoke on the Sacred Heart to all four years and to all first-year classes. Fr. Rector (F. Harrington) gave an eight-day retreat to the Sisters of St. Joseph of Orange before Mar. 19. Fr. Want gave a three-day retreat to high school girls at the Convent of the Helpers of the Holy Souls early in the month. Fr. Parrish gave the conferences to the Henry Welch Guild (Mothers Club) at their day of recollection on campus.

Varia. A visitor was Bishop Thomas Feeney, S.J., Vicar-Apostolic of the Caroline and Marshall Islands, who was our guest for a few days early in March. Fr. Duce made his annual visitation of the school in late February. On March 12 the General Motors scientific display, "Preview of Progress," was shown in the auditorium for all third-year students. After nearly a year's work the physics lab remodeling is finished.

SODALITY

Santa Clara. A day of recollection for members of the USF and Santa Clara Sodalities took place on the SC campus, Sunday, Mar. 30, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fr. James Mara of Alma gave four talks during the day. Fr. F. Moore of SC and Fr. Ralph Brown of USF arranged this activity.

Fr. Curran. Fr. Francis J. Curran of the Queen's Work Staff is in charge of promoting men's Sodalities throughout the country. His job is to encourage active college Sodalists to continue the fullness of Sodality living in parish Sodalities after graduation. In late February Fr. Curran traveled to Le Moyne College in Syracuse and John Carroll U in Cleveland to study the splendid techniques used in those college Sodalities and to seek suggestions for bridging the gap between college and parish.

SSCA's will be held in St. Louis, June 16-21; Jackson, Mo.,

June 23-28; Lafayette, La., June 23-28; Dallas, June 30-July 5; Omaha, July 14-19; Detroit, July 21-26; Buffalo, Aug. 4-9; Boston, Aug. 11-16; NYC, Aug. 18-23; Chicago, Aug. 25-30.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY

For Industry. Continuing its services to the industrial community of Los Angeles, the University's Industrial Relations School opened its spring term March 4 at Loyola High School. Classes meet every Tuesday evening for nine weeks. Courses are given in Parliamentary Practice, Facts About Money, Cases in California Workingmen's Compensation, Speaking on Your Feet, Effective Thinking, Principles of Teamwork, etc. Instructors are Fr. Wm. McIntosh, Director of the School, Frs. Benecke, Lynch, and R. C. Graham, Mr. Mervin Fletcher, a Los Angeles compensation attorney, and Dr. Arthur J. Rando of the American Federation of Musicians. No tuition is charged and the courses are open to all levels of labor and management and to both men and women.

The Douglas El Segundo Management Club is sponsoring a course in "Ethics of Labor and Management," given by Fr. McIntosh. Classes will be held during March and April on Wednesday evenings, at the Del Rey campus.

Conventions. Participating in the annual Conference of the Western Placement and Recruitment Association, held in SF on Mar. 27-29, was Mr. Lucien Escallier, Director of the Loyola Placement Bureau.

Over the week end of March 1, eight members of the staff of KXLU, the University's radio station, attended the annual Western Radio and Television Conference held at Stanford, as well as the spring meetings of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System and Western Intercollegiate Network.

Fr. President (Casassa) took part in the annual meeting of the NAIB in Kansas City. He attended as a member of the President's Advisory Board.

Cultural Events. Dr. Yves Simon, eminent Catholic philosopher and professor at Chicago U, lectured Mar. 18 in the University library on "The Functions of Authority." Miss Rosalind Murray, lecturer in the current Loyola Series, spoke Mar. 11 on "Do We Fail the Good Pagan?" A successful novelist since 1920, Miss Murray is a convert to Catholicism and it is from the viewpoint of the former "pagan" that her lectures are given.

Early in March the Glee Club toured the Southwestern LA area, giving concerts for the South Ebell Club, Mount Carmel student body, and the West Ebell Club. The singers took first place in the Southern California Choral Competitions, Male Chorus Division. Congratulations are due to Bill Hollenbeck and his fine group.

The Historical Society, through the efforts of Fr. Brusher, is sponsoring in the University library a display of rare documents that will delight the heart of the student of early Americana. Special emphasis is laid upon documents concerned with the War between the States, but several newspapers printed at the time of Washington's death are included. Much of the work of classifying and collating the work was done by Mr. Wm. Walsh, former member of the History faculty.

Alumni. Chuck Johnson, '44, Sports Editor of the Tidings, was elected President of the Loyola Alumni Association at the annual election meeting and dinner held in the Lair.

The Loyola Mothers Guild, under the direction of Fr. Thomas O'Rourke, sponsored a St. Patrick's Day Luncheon in the Gymnasium, and grossed over $1600.

The University plans to build a new engineering laboratory soon.

MOUNT ST. MICHAEL'S

First Masses. Fr. Rector (J. Dunne) announced that the Oregonian third year Theologians will be ordained at St. Aloysius Church this year, June 21. Mr. Gill is in charge of all preparations for the first Low Masses at the Mount, June 22.

Speakers. Fr. Prange, Pastor of St. Aloysius Church, addressed the Philosophers on convert work.

Capt Cullen, Chief of Public Relations at Fairchild Air Base, spoke on the need for priests and teachers to make their philosophy and theology practical for laymen. Mar. 15 Fr. Dowling spoke on the Cana Conferences, of which he is the originator.

On the First Saturday of March an Academia was given on the Immaculate Heart. The general subject of the talks was the place of this devotion in our lives. The feast of St. Thomas was marked by a panel discussion on the topic, "St. Thomas and Ryle's Concept of Mind." The papers were given by Messrs. Weber, Gill and Braus. For St. Patrick's Day Mr. Mason directed a production of the "Mikado."

Health. Fr. Leo Robinson spent one night at the Mount before going to Tacoma for special treatment. He may return to Spokane in the fall. Mr. J. O'Leary spent two weeks at Sacred Heart Hospital after suffering a concussion skiing on Mt. Spokane. Mar. 14 Mr. Lynch underwent an appendectomy and Mr. P. Robinson some nose surgery.

Under the direction and inspiration of Fr. Ferretti the Philosophers are constructing a housing project for about 20 rabbits. Father expects to be in the business before Easter.

PHOENIX

Festival. Our annual Horse Show and Festival took place on Saturday and Sunday, Mar. 15-16. Heavy rains on Sunday caused the Horse Show to be postponed to a later date but the Festival and dinner went on as scheduled. Although we made a little financially, the rain cost us several thousands of dollars. Fr. Wm. McLoughlin (NY) arranged the Show, Fr. Wm. Ferrell (Mo.) the Festival. Entered in the Show were 130 horses of all different classes and more than 300 riders.

Fr. Dunne. During Religious Conference Week at Arizona State U, Fr. Geo. Dunne addressed students of all denomiations on the importance of faith. He also gave a talk to the Young People's Club of St. Mary's Parish on courtship and marriage. After the talk much time was spent in answering the many questions that were asked. Fr. Dunne has been asked to read a paper on the encyclical Humani Generis at the clergy conference to be held in Phoenix. The NC WC made reprints of his address to the Iowa Bankers and distributed copies to the clergy throughout the country.

Fr. Hanley. At the invitation of Fr. Dan Campbell (Mo.), Chaplain at the Air Force Base in Albuquerque, Fr. Hanley gave a week's mission to the military and civilian personnel of that base. He also gave the Novena of Grace in our church. Ten neighboring pastors were here for dinner on the closing night. The Novena closed with Solemn High Mass in the morning and Solemn Benediction in the evening.

The newly consecrated Bishop Feeney of the Caroline Islands was our guest for a day. Fr. G. Leahy and Msgr. Robert Donohoe drive Bishop Feeney to Tucson to meet Bishop Gercke.

Fr. Joseph Monaghan (Canada) and Fr. Robert Eiten (Chicago) spent several weeks recuperating in St. Joseph's Hospital.

For the second consecutive year a girl from our parish was chosen Queen of the Phoenix Rodeo.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Fathers. Speaker at all the Masses of the first Sunday in February was Fr. Patrick Toomey, Maryknoller. Fr. Budde attended a pastors' meeting at St. Patrick's in conjunction with a program for the coming election on the school tax exemption law. Fr. Howard gave an illustrated lecture to the Ladies Sodality. Fr. Kristovich arrived to help with the Lenten work.

Activities. To celebrate Boy Scout Anniversary Week about 60 persons came together for a St. Mary's Boy Scouts dinner for Fathers and Sons. At a Pot Luck Dinner given by the Dads and Mothers Club 120 were present. On St. Valentine's Day the Mothers Club conducted a luncheon party for the school children. On every First Friday members of the Mothers Club serve breakfast to the children. A very successful Pre-Lenten Dance was held under the auspices of the various organizations of the church. The dance proceeds were spent for two new gas stoves recently installed in the Hall. Members of the St. Boniface Auxiliary helped to make the rummage sale a success.

RECENT DEATHS

Fr. Charles L. Bernhardt, on Feb. 25, in Waltham, Mass.

Fr. James J. Dolan, on Mar. 4, in Maypen, Jamaica.

Bro. Francis Lochner, on Mar. 21, in Spokane.

Fr. Hugh M. McCarron, on Mar. 1, in Washington, D.C.

Fr. Myles J. O'Mailia, on Mar. 14, in Buffalo.

The mother of Mr. E. T. Burke.

SAN FRANCISCO

USF Activities. About 700 students from local and Bay Area high schools visited the University on Senior Day, Mar. 20. They toured the campus, visited classes, inspected labs and ROTC equipment, and enjoyed luncheon on the grounds. The day ended with a helicopter landing on the campus from an Army field, and with a baseball game between the varsity team and the City Fire Department.

The College Players presented "The Triumph of the Cross" in the USF auditorium, Mar. 27-30. Fr. Thomas O'Brien of the Oregon Province is the author. This marks the premier showing of his work.

The rifle team representing USF won the championship of the Southwest Invitational Small Bore Rifle Meet held in El Paso. Their score was 7506 out of a possible 8000. Four team members won individual honors. About eight colleges participated.

The University students recited the Rosary over a local radio station, which has this popular devotion every evening. A different parish or group is present each evening.

Speakers. As a member of the Western Review Committee on teaching fellowships of the Ford Foundation, Fr. President (Wm. Dunne) attended the second meeting at Santa Monica. Part of his duties was to interview four professors from the University of California, four from Stanford, and one from Mills, all applicants for these fellowships. Fr. Dunne also gave the St. Patrick's Day talk before the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in Los Angeles.

Fr. Lyons gave the main address before a group honoring Pierre Monteux, leader of the SF Symphony Orchestra. The meeting was held to raise money for a fitting musical building in connection with Notre Dame College in Belmont. Fr. McMahon gave a day of recollection at 2222 Broadway for the Center Group of Old St. Mary's.

Alumni. The University Alumni held the annual Communion-Breakfast in the High School gym, Mar. 30. The feature of this year's celebration was to hold local Communion Breakfasts wherever a USF Club had been formed or where there were sufficient men to get together. Promises of groups in Europe, Honolulu, Manila, Korea, scores of places in the United States, were received. The meeting in SF at St. Ignatius Church is to be considered the mother group.

Church. During Lent Fr. Feely speaks on Wednesday evenings, Fr. A. Falvey on Sunday evenings. Fr. Wilson (Chicago) gave the talks for the Novena of Grace, and reports were very gratifying. Attendance at the devotions was also very large. Various Fathers of the community are giving Lenten series in many parishes in the archdiocese.

SANTA CLARA UNIVERSITY

Fr. Hauck. Among the recent speaking engagements of Fr. President (Hauck) was the Feb. 18 dinner meeting of the San Jose Sales-Executives Association, where he spoke on "The Philosophy of Salesmanship." At the Sales Clinic held Mar. 18 by the San Jose Sales Managers in the Roosevelt High School, he addressed 300 persons. Another talk was that given to the alumni and wives of the Oakland Chapter at the Sequoyah Country Club, Feb. 22. At Corvallis, Mar. 22, he addressed a meeting of Oregon alumni and spoke over the radio during the NCAA Basketball Tournament.

Fr. Hauck attended the Mills College Centennial Banquet at the Palace Hotel, Feb. 29. News that Mills College has obtained $400,000 in gifts from corporations over the past ten months should stimulate Ours to greater Fund appeal efforts.

Meetings. Members of the faculty and alumni met in the office of Fr. Brown, Archdiocesan Superintendent of Schools, Feb. 20, to collaborate on plans for bringing students to Catholic colleges. This is a notable innovation in the Archdiocese.

As part of a joint committee formed by the State Department of Education and the Western College Association, Fr. Boland and Dean Dirksen of the College of Business Administration visited the College of the Pacific, March 29, to participate in an experimental accrediting examination.

Fr. Wilfred Crowley was named to the Council of the NCAA, making Santa Clara the first Catholic college to be so recognized by this association. Fr. President and Fr. Crowley attended its annual convention in Cincinnati, Jan. 10-12.

Lectures. Mr. Franklin H. Williams, a graduate of Fordham School of Law and representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, gave a lecture under the auspices of the Student Bar Association in the Moot Court of the College of Law.

Dr. Yves Simon of the University of Chicago addressed over 100 students in the Adobe Lodge on "Free Will."

Fr. Ryder, of the Byzantine Slav rite, addressed a large group on campus, Mar. 13, on "Russia and Its People." The day before, he celebrated the Liturgy in the Mission Church. Several hundred students, faculty and staff received Communion under both species. Fr. Joseph Geary of Los Gatos acted as narrator during the ceremony and an Alma College choir sang the chants.

Under the auspices of the International Relations Club, Fr. Hubbard lectured to an overflow house in the University Theater, Jan. 17, commemorating his 25th year of Alaskan exploration. He was exceedingly well received.

Campus. Through the donated service of Dr. Josef Hilpert, and under the direction of Fr. Pociask, the greater part of the de Saisset collection of paintings has been restored and framed. Under the direction of Fr. Copeland, who during the past few months has done a great deal to stimulate debating on the campus, our debate team journeyed to the University of Arizona at Tucson where it carried away honors. In memory of Dr. J. Fenton McKenna's mother, the "Drama Group" of the Bohemian Club in San Francisco contributed $65 to the Chair of Dramatics at Santa Clara. A "room-warming" was held by the community Jan. 25 in the newly decorated Chaplain's Office in the Mission Church. Under Fr. Francis Moore's direction, a waiting room and confessional and office have been made out of the former single room.

Community. Fr. Joseph Martin was appointed Acting Vice President in charge of student welfare, during the stay of Fr. Stretch in St. Mary's Hospital, where he underwent a serious operation. Fr. Henry Walsh returned from hospitalization and is back with the community. He plans to continue and finish his History of Santa Clara. Frs. McCummiskey and Chas. Walsh returned to the Infirmary from O'Connor Hospital.

Fr. Moore arranged that the Novena of Grace be given by different Fathers, on the contribution toward zeal found in the various courses and activities of the University.

Fr. Donovan visited Hawaii with the basketball team and organized an alumni chapter there.

Status Changes. Fr. Andrew Gilligan was announced as Minister of Alma, Mar. 25. Fr. Francis Ford became Rector of Loyola High, and Fr. Francis Harrington went to Phoenix to prepare for the opening of Brophy High.
